

MELANCTHON WORLD WAR 1 VETERANS - THOSE WHO CAME HOME

The Melancthon Township Heritage Committee recognizes that over the years there has been a focus as we remember, especially on Remembrance Day, on those who paid the ultimate sacrifice while in service. The Committee extends the recognition to those who served and 'came home'.

The focus of the following is to recognize and honour those from World War 1 who served Canada. For some there are very limited records and history available to share and we trust that the brevity of the posted information does not reflect any disrespect. The Sixty Eight (68) stories that are shared are shared in chronological order based on the date of enlistment and/or draft date. We have provided an index reference immediately following this introduction listing the page reference to the individual 'story', for those who may be seeking to only reference a specific soldier.

There are some, approximately 20, who by virtue of physical and mental capacity and military standard requirements, and those who were needed on the home front/farm who enlisted/drafted but not able to serve. There were others, sometimes simply by virtue of the closeness of their draft/enlistment relative to the timing of the end of the War, who while drafted were not called on to serve. For those who could not or did not actually 'serve' their stories are not posted.

If the Committee has missed anyone, we apologize; we would be pleased to post additional "histories".

The Committee had hoped to recognize those with Melancthon connections who served in World War 2 and subsequently but unfortunately there is no ability to access the military records and diaries to suitably 'historize' the service. Based on the Museum of Dufferin 'research online" there were approximately 120 persons from Melancthon who 'served" in WW2, apart from the sixteen who paid the ultimate sacrifice, but the Committee has limited ways to determine the nature of the 'service" or even to affirm that the 120 actually were connected to Melancthon. To each of these persons we do extend our recognition and honour. We would hope in future to be able to honour each individually with "their story".

Reference source information has included;

1. The Museum of Dufferin online research information;
2. The Library Archives of Canada Personnel Records for WW1 veterans; and
3. War Diaries for various Regiments/Battalions.

MICHAEL GEORGE McCAULEY

He was born December 3, 1885. His parents were James and Lydia McCauley. One of his nine siblings, being his brother David would also enlist and serve.

George enlisted on September 22, 1914 at Valcartier, Quebec proceeding to England as part of the 1st Canadian Division in October, 1914. He served with the 4th Battalion. He would be recognized with the Distinguished Conduct Medal for 'conspicuous gallantry' for his actions at Langemarck, Belgium on April 23, 1915, being the first real encounter of the Canadian forces in the war effort. In January, 1916 he would transfer to the 1st Brigade Machine Gun Company. He returned home to Canada on March 29, 1919 being struck off the service rolls on April 8, 1919.

He would marry Dolly French on March 22, 1921 and thereafter have a son and daughter. He would farm near Corbetton. He died on October 8, 1948 and is buried in the Dundalk cemetery.

WILLIAM HERMAN "AUSTIN" PATTON

He was born July 16, 1885 to James and Mary Patton. He had five siblings including three brothers and two sisters. Two of his brothers would also serve, one would pay the ultimate sacrifice (Herbert Patton). The family lived and farmed south of Dundalk until the family relocated to Birtle, Manitoba in approximately 1907. Austin had military experience prior to WW1 but with the Declaration of War in August, 1914 he formed part of the 1st Canadian Expeditionary Force with his formal enlistment on September 23, 1914 at Valcartier, Quebec. He would serve with the 5th Battalion Canadian Infantry. He would hold the rank of Sergeant as of February, 1915 and as of February, 1918 hold the rank of Acting QuarterMaster Sergeant. He would be awarded the Military Medal for Bravery in October, 1916. He sustained gunshot wounds in battle in September, 1916. He ultimately returned to Canada on April 5, 1919 and be demobilized April 10, 1919.

He would following his return to Canada reside and farm in Birtle, Manitoba. He died on May 3, 1938, his obituary referring to his military rank as Sergeant Major.

JOHN ELLARD LEONARD KEYES

John was born on October 23, 1887 in Barrie, Ontario to David and Elizabeth Keyes. According to the 1911 Census the family was residing in Hornings Mills, David Keyes being a teacher. The Shelburne Free Press in a December, 1915 news article shared that John had left Hornings Mills in 1912 to travel to Scotland as a surgeon before returning to school in London, England to further his medical training. With the onset of war, he joined the British Army as a surgeon serving in France through 1915 before returning to Toronto to open his medical office.

He would reenlist with the Canadian Army Medical Corps in November, 1917 serving at military hospitals in Toronto until October, 1919.

He would marry in 1922 before relocating to Ohio, USA. He would subsequently divorce and remarry in 1940 having three more children.

In 1942 he enlisted with the USA Medical Corps to serve through 1945 as a Lieutenant Colonel.

He died on March 26, 1968 in Ohio, USA.

HARVEY MARTIN MIDDAUGH (Medaugh)

Harvey was born July 10, 1882 at Corbetton to Martin and Amelia (Hicks) Middaugh. He married Martha Hessey on February 17, 1909 at Winnipeg and had a daughter in 1911. He was employed as a telegraph operator. He enlisted to serve on February 16, 1915. He served with the 2nd Canadian Division as a Signaller. He would be awarded several decorations including the Military Medal for Bravery, the 1915 Mons Star and the Russia St George Cross. He was wounded on November 27, 1916 resulting in his transfer to serve with a non-combat Corps, his promotion to Sergeant and ultimately his return to Canada in December, 1917. He would there serve at the Hart House School and Dominion Orthopedic Hospital, Toronto ultimately holding the rank of Quarter Master Sergeant in Toronto until his demobilization on June 6, 1919.

Post War he lived with his family in Toronto, where he worked as a telegraph operator. He died on October 31, 1955.

JOSEPH DEMMANS

He was born March 4, 1894 in Fergus, Ontario. His parents, John and Mary Jane (Fleming) Demmans would relocate the family to Riverview in the early 1900s, his mother dying in 1907. Joseph would later relocate to work on a farm near Moose Jaw, Saskatchewan.

He enlisted to serve on March 24, 1915 with the 28th Northwest Battalion that would later serve as part of the 6th Infantry Brigade, 2nd Canadian Division. He would be in England as of September, 1915 and in France by early January, 1916, joining his Unit on February 3, 1916. Two months later he was wounded at the Battle of St Eloi, Belgium on April 5, 1916 suffering a serious injury to his jaw. He would be returned to England for treatment before being determined to be no longer physically fit for service. He returned to Canada in November, 1916 and was demobilized on January 21, 1917.

Following his demobilization he would marry in 1919 and have a daughter in 1920. He worked as a farmer in Manitoba before relocating to Windsor, Ontario . He died on April 7, 1953.

CHARLES OSCAR STEWART

Charles was born May 1, 1893 to James and Margaret (Phillips) Stewart near Shrigley where his family farmed. Charles worked for the CPR as a freight clerk in Owen Sound before his enlistment on June 11, 1915 in Owen Sound. Before embarking to England in December, 1915 he married Greta May Evans on October 16, 1915. He served with the 37th Battalion, Canadian Engineers as a Sapper through until his return to Halifax in May, 1919 and his demobilization on May 16, 1919.

He and his spouse would have seven children. He died on October 29, 1951. He is buried in the Prospect Cemetery in Toronto.

WILLIAM JAMES HUMM

There is some confusion in William's records both as to his birthdate, the dates ranging between 1888 and 1896, and even his surname. He was born in London, England and would arrive in Canada on March 28, 1903, purportedly at age nine. He was part of the Barnardo Group Home Children. The 1911 Canada Census identifies him as working as a servant for the Curphey family in Melancthon since 1910.

He enlisted to serve on June 29th, 1915 in Belleville with the 59th Battalion. He would embark for England in April, 1916 before joining the 18th Battalion (Infantry), 2nd Canadian Division in France on June 11, 1916. Less than two weeks later, on June 23rd, 1916 he sustained a gun shot wound to his face and to his left leg. He would rejoin his Battalion as of mid-July, 1916 but by mid August he was unable to continue as a result of the prior injuries. On September 27, 1916 he was deemed not fit for military service. He returned to Canada in November, 1916. In January, 1917 he was discharged from military service.

He would die on January 8, 1951 in Toronto, after having returned to military service during WW2 serving as part of the Veteran's Guard in Canada. He is buried in Prospect Cemetery, Toronto.

WILLIAM APPLETON KNOWLTON

William was born December 14, 1894 in Hornings Mills to Alfred and Ellen (Flear) Knowlton. He was one of six children.

He enlisted to serve with the 58th Battalion on July 6, 1915, embarked for England in August, 1915 and was taken strength with the 26 Battalion (New Brunswick Regiment) in November, 1915. He served with the 26th until he was wounded in May, 1916 rejoining the Battalion in late September, 1916 before being wounded again on November 14, 1916, being disabled until March 10, 1917. In the spring, 1917 he was receiving treatment for the not yet fully resolved November, 1916 injury and was also treated for post traumatic shock, as it would later be known. By virtue of William's disability he was deemed not fit for service, returned to Canada and discharged from service on May 10, 1918.

In the meantime he had met a English war widow, Margaret Lawrence, and received permission from the Canadian Army to marry. He married her on August 9, 1916. His wife would unfortunately die in 1922 after having born him a son in 1920. She is buried in the Hornings Mills Cemetery.

William would marry Dorothy Morton in 1925, and would have four more children. He would be employed as a carpenter. The family resided in Whitby, Ontario.

William would die on June 9, 1956 as a result of a drowning accident on Rice Lake, Ontario. He is buried in Oshawa, Ontario.

JOHN JAMES EYLES

John Eyles was born on June 11, 1895 in Dartford, Kent, England to his parents John and Elizabeth (Morris) Eyles. He was apparently living in an orphanage in 1901. Due to his family situation he would travel to Canada in May, 1910 with the National Children's Home organization. The 1911 Canada Census identifies him as working with the Andrew and Etta Henry family as a farm labourer in Melancthon. He would later work for Hugh Bates. Records indicate that he was a member of the Hornings Mills Presbyterian Church choir.

John would enlist in Niagara Falls on July 6, 1915 and be granted permission to return to Melancthon to help with the farming in the summer, 1915. He arrived in England in November, 1915 landing in France in February, 1916 to serve with the 58th Battalion, 4th Infantry Brigade, 3rd Canadian Division. His personnel records indicate that John would sustain injuries on a number of battlefield encounters in July, 1916, August, 1917 and again on August 8, 1918. He was awarded the Military Medal for bravery.

He returned to Canada in February, 1919 and was demobilized on May 6, 1919. He would live in Artemesia Township, Grey County after the War working as a switchboard operator. He married Niva Wilson on January 14, 1922. He died in approximately 1970.

SIDNEY THOMAS MAKER

Sidney Maker was another of the British Home Children that came to Canada in the late 1800s, early 1900s. He arrived from England on July 7, 1895 as a ten year old, born April 3, 1885 in London, England. The records indicate that for a period of time he resided with and worked for James Donkin in Riverview.

He enlisted to serve on July 20, 1915. He embarked from Halifax for England on March 24, 1916. He would be taken on by the 3rd Battalion, joining the Battalion on June 21, 1916 in France. In the Battle of Courcelette he was wounded on September 6, 1916 with injuries to his arms and foot. Ultimately he would return to Canada, deemed medically unfit to serve, where he continued in the military through until April 30, 1920.

Sidney would marry and settle in Toronto working as a stationary engineer. He died on July 12, 1950.

FRANCIS "FRANK" COLLINS

Another British Home Child, Frank would arrive in Melancthon in 1909 where he resided with the William and Adeline Hudd family, working on their family farm. He had been born May 13, 1897 in Bermondsey, England.

He enlisted to serve on July 20, 1915. He would embark for England on March 29, 1916 where he would be taken on by the 4 Canadian Mounted Rifles, 8th Canadian Infantry Brigade, 3rd Canadian Division joining his Unit in France on June 11, 1916. During his time at the battle front he would be wounded on two separate occasions including at the Battle of the Somme on September 15, 1916 and at Vimy Ridge on April 13, 1917. He would ultimately return to Canada and be demobilized on May 19, 1919.

He married Florence Alberta Westecott on November 28, 1923 having four children. They resided in Melancthon until a move to Shelburne in 1958. Frank died on January 19, 1969 and is buried in the Hornings Mills Cemetery.

DUFFERIN CLARK WILDER

Dufferin was born January 26, 1895 in Hornings Mills, his parents Thomas and Mary Wilder. By October, 1915 he and his mother had moved to Rockwood, following his father's death in June, 1915. He enlisted to serve on October 8, 1915 noting his occupation as a weaver.

He arrived with his battalion in England in April, 1916. He would join the 42nd battalion in France in June, 1916. He was wounded in August, 1916 but continued to serve in France until into the spring, 1917. In February, 1917 the Canadian military sent notice to his mother that Dufferin had been killed in action only to have Dufferin write to her a few weeks later that he was alive and well. In May, 1917 he suffered an injury due to an accident. He would return to Canada in November, 1917, discharged as medically unfit on December 14, 1917.

In March, 1918 he relocated to Chicago, Illinois, United States. He would marry. He died on April 29, 1948.

MILTON LLOYD SLOAN

Milton was born on July 22, 1896 in Fergus to Thomas and Minna (Bolton) Sloan. The family would move to Hornings Mills.

He enlisted to serve on October 26, 1915 with the 95th battalion. He arrived in England on June 8, 1916 and would be taken on by the 26th Battalion (New Brunswick) Infantry as of September, 1916. He would serve with the 26th through the remainder of the War until his return to England in June, 1919. On June 11, 1919 he was demobilized in Canada.

Following the war he would live and work for a time in Hornings Mills but in the early, 1920s he moved out west before relocating to Kansas, USA where he married and had a daughter, according to the US Census of 1931, working as a plumber. The family would ultimately return to live in Toronto. Milton died on December 18, 1979 in Toronto.

EDWARD POTTS

Edward was another of the British Home Children. He was born June 10, 1892 and according to records was living in a Workhouse for children in 1902. He arrived in Canada in August, 1903. The 1911 census identifies Edward as living and working with the John Newton family in Riverview.

On November 15, 1915 he enlisted in Kingston to serve. He listed his occupation as a farmer and named his sister Emily, also, living in Riverview, as his next of kin. Edward served with the Royal Canadian Horse Artillery as a Gunner having arrived in England in March, 1916 and in France by June 14, 1916. He was wounded on March 28, 1918 at Vimy Ridge. As a result of wounds sustained he was hospitalized through until October, 1918. He returned to Canada and was demobilized as medically unfit to serve on February 14, 1919.

He would marry on June 28, 1922 to Mary Gowanlock and they would raise a family of three children while living in Walkerton. He died in Walkerton on October 18, 1975.

DANIEL MARTELL

He was born October 20, 1892 to his parents Daniel and Barbara (Ellis) Martell. The family would farm in the Corbetton area.

Daniel enlisted to serve on November 30, 1915 in Owen Sound with the 147th Battalion. The Battalion would arrive in England on November 20, 1916. On June 26, 1917 he was taken on by the 39th Battalion, Canadian Infantry. On August 8, 1918 he was seriously wounded being returned to England for treatment. In December, 1918 he was returned to Canada and discharged as medically unfit on February 21, 1919.

Daniel returned to live in Melancthon following the war. He married Ethel Scace on October 10, 1923. They would have three daughters. Ultimately the family would relocate to Brantford, Ontario. Daniel died on June 8, 1961.

ERIC FRANCIS STURGE

Another of the British Home Children Eric arrived in Canada on July 17, 1911 at the age of eighteen, having been born November 23, 1892. He would live and work as farm labour in Corbetton.

In the fall, 1915 he was doing military training even before he enlisted on December 7, 1915. He arrived in England with his battalion on June 21, 1916. He would be taken on by the 5th Canadian Mounted Rifles joining his Unit in France on November 9, 1917. Following the War he returned to Canada in July, 1919, being demobilized on July 30, 1919.

He would marry Dorothy Sproston and have two children. They lived in Battle River, near Lloydminster, Saskatchewan. He died on November 22, 19179 in British Columbia.

WILLIAM HERBERT POLLEY

He was born May 28, 1892 in Hornings Mills, his parents being William and Dinah Polley. His brother Roy also enlisted and was killed in action.

He enlisted to serve on December 7, 1915 with the 123rd Royal Grenadiers. His Battalion would arrive in England on August 19, 1916. He would join his Unit in France on June 16, 1917, the Unit being part of the Canadian Engineers, CEF. His military personnel records indicate that he was promoted to Corporal. He would have some health issues through the later part of 1918 before returning to Canada in 1919. He was demobilized as not medically fit on April 1, 1919.

He would on his demobilization reside with his mother and siblings in Toronto. He married Myra Ketcheson on September 19, 1922. His wife would die in 1937. He died on August 14, 1948 in Toronto and is buried at the Prospect Cemetery, Toronto.

GEORGE EDWARD PERCY WILKINSON

Percy was born on September 13, 1892. His parents were James Henry and Margaret (Henry) Wilkinson. He worked as a teamster prior to his enlistment.

Percy enlisted on December 7, 1915, at the same time as Herbert Polley, with the 123rd Battalion. He would travel to England in August, 1916. He went to France on March 3, 1917 but had health challenges off and on through 1917. He would serve with the 9th battalion, Canadian Engineers from May, 1918 onward until his return to Canada in March, 1919. He was demobilized on March 30, 1919.

Following his return to Canada he would marry Louise McBean on April 11, 1923. They would reside in Innisfil, Simcoe. He died on June 29, 1970 in Innisfil.

DAVID McCAULEY

David was born March 26, 1889 in Melancthon. His parents were James and Lydia (Shoaff) McCauley.

He enlisted on December 15, 1915 with the Western Ontario regiment in Harriston where he was working as a barber. The Regiment would not embark to England until January, 1918. He would join his Unit, the 50th Battalion, in France on June 9, 1918. He was wounded in battle on September 5, 1918 and thereafter be hospitalized until November 22, 1918, almost two weeks after the War ended. He returned to Canada in February, 1919 and demobilized on March 4, 1919.

He married Olive Landsborough in Shelburne on January 26, 1926. They would reside in Toronto where he worked as a barber. He died in Toronto on April 29, 1940.

JOHN CECIL STEWART

He was born on December 24, 1895 to James Redpath and Margaret Stewart near Shrigley.

He enlisted with the 147th battalion in Owen Sound on January 6, 1916, listing his occupation as Banker. He initially served as a payroll clerk before transferring to the Machine Gun Section in March, 1916. The Battalion arrived in England in November, 1916. He was taken on strength with the Canadian Machine Gun Corp on April 18, 1917. On November 15, 1917, while serving at the Battle of Passendaele he was buried alive by shelling. Fortunately he escaped but he injured his arm but did not discover it was fractured until some months later in March, 1918. He would not return to action but would only return to Canada, medically unfit to serve, in February, 1919.

Following the War he married Donalda Madeline Hogan on July 4, 1923. They would have two children and live in Toronto where John Cecil was employed, at least in 1931, as the manager of a store. He died on January 2, 1976.
